

About Breast Cancer Network Australia

Breast Cancer Network Australia (BCNA) is the national voice of Australians personally affected by breast cancer. Its role is to empower, inform, represent and link together people whose lives have been affected by breast cancer. It links together more than 140 breast cancer member groups and over 15,000 individuals across the country. BCNA provide a variety of programs to provide support to survivors and their families and raise awareness of breast cancer in the community.

BCNA's programs include -

My Journey Kit - a free resource for women newly-diagnosed with breast cancer. Toll free 1300 785 562

The Beacon - a free, quarterly national magazine, with a circulation of 15,000. Toll free 1800 500 258

The Field of Women – an annual awareness raising event

Seat at the Table – a program which trains and supports women as “consumer representatives” on a variety of national and state committees where decisions are made with regard to breast cancer.

BCNA's national office is based in Melbourne with a core staff of 11, as well as two honorary State Representatives in each state and territory. The State Representatives are all breast cancer survivors, as is BCNA's Chief Executive Officer, Lyn Swinburne.
