About us

The Mental Health Tribunal Western Australia is an independent statutory tribunal established under the Mental Health Act 2014 (WA). The Tribunal's primary role is to safeguard the rights of involuntary patients receiving psychiatric treatment without informed consent in Western Australia. The Tribunal reviews every involuntary treatment order in Western Australia shortly after it is made, and then every three months thereafter. The Tribunal also determines a range of other applications, including applications to administer electroconvulsive therapy and psychosurgery.

The positions

The Mental Health Tribunal Western Australia is seeking expressions of interest to fill a total of 6 full-time (or an equivalent number of part-time) positions as Legal Members, Psychiatrist Members and Community Members. Members may be appointed on a full-time or part-time basis, with those appointed on a part-time basis having fixed schedules. The Tribunal will also consider appointing sessional Psychiatrist Members, particularly Child and Adolescent Psychiatrists, to supplement areas of operational need. Sessional members are paid a casual rate to work only as required.

Members of the Tribunal hold statutory office and are appointed by the Governor on the recommendation of the Minister for Mental Health for a term of up to five years, on the terms and conditions of appointment determined by the Minister. Members are not employees within the meaning of the Public Sector Management Act 1994 (WA).
